How to collaborate with Royalty

This past March, Ms. V, and Culture Coffee Too closed their doors. I want to personally say thank you to Ms.V for believing in the Royalty Institute Mission and Vision. She hosted the majority of Royalty Institute Fundraisers at her facility, free of charge, to support the education of black boys in our community. Thank you for your contribution, your support, and your spirit Ms. V. Best of luck with your next endeavor!

Athletic Training & Tutoring

Athletic training and tutoring at the Bladensburg Rec Center has been a huge success. We are currently working with students between the 4th and 10th grades twice per week and have serviced upwards of 30 boys and girls from the Bladensburg community. The students receive regular academic support and athletic development free of charge. A huge thank you to the Bladensburg Community for collaborating on this event.

Royalty Prep Elite Middle School Team

The royalty prep 8th-grade youth football program is now transitioning to a hybrid 7-on-7 and tackle football schedule taking part in the Coliseum league and tournaments in the region. This In winter/spring, the team has taken part in two tournaments (the tune-up and the Spartan clash) and had phenomenal showings at both. We are truly excited to work with this group of young men as they continue to grow their athletes.

VR School Collaboration

We are excited to announce a partnership with the VR School led by Dr. Cheteni and Palo Alto California to revolutionize our student's educational experience. A huge thank you to our academics committee for facilitating this collaboration. We cannot wait to show you all the ways we will use VR to change the way we educate black children in our country.

☆ King Spotlight ☆ Damonte Bray

Damonte was a standout player for coach Wade during his first year as a head coach. Upon completion of high school, he went to Gallaudet University where he was an All-American receiver for the Bison. He then went into the armed forces before becoming an accountant in the state of North Carolina. Damonte is a testament to the GRIND principles of Royalty.

THE ROYALTY EDUCATION FUND

The Royalty Education Fund allows the institute to offer our education program to young men from all economic backgrounds and family environment. Please donate or volunteer today via our website:
